

McCarthy Promises No-Quarter Fight To Expose Red Traitors

By JOHN CHADWICK

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today challenged critics of his Red-hunting methods—from President Eisenhower down—to name any Communists they have exposed.

The controversial chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, cheered on by a St. Patrick's Day dinner gathering Wednesday night, pledged a no-quarter fight to dig out "Communist traitors."

Criticism Defied

In the face of indirect criticism from Eisenhower and other top leaders of his party, he bluntly said he didn't give "a tinker's dam" if people in either the Republican or Democratic party—no matter how high or how low—were "unhappy" about his methods.

"This fight is going on as long as I am in the United States Senate," he said, touching off a burst of applause.

Eisenhower, in a news conference Wednesday, deplored the effects of "unwise investigators." He also said recently that in the fight against communism "we are defeating ourselves if . . . we use methods that do not conform to the American sense of justice and fair play."

Democrat Chairman Brings Up Religious Angle In Politics

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, says "a group of political extremists" in the United States is deliberately overemphasizing the internal menace of communism to gain political and business advantage.

"What these extremists are trying to do," Mitchell said Wednesday night, "is to convert the fear and hatred that Americans feel for communism into fear and hatred of other Americans."

Prejudice Revived
Without naming him, Mitchell referred obviously and repeatedly to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and to his supporters, particularly with reference to what Mitchell called a "revival of religious prejudice" against the Roman Catholic Church.

Mitchell, identifying himself as a Roman Catholic, said he regretted "that many non-Catholics have come to feel that my co-religionists are in the forefront of those who would sacrifice methods to objectives."

In Chicago, McCarthy commenting on Mitchell's speech, said, "I have read it. I can hardly believe McCarthy, in the first of four speeches in a quick swing through the Midwest, said there are some who say it's all right to dig out Communists, "but, oh, we don't like your methods." He said critics of his subcommittee's methods have not, however, suggested any effective alternative.

"When you hear them crying that they don't like the methods," he added, "I suggest that you ask them when and where they ever exposed a Communist by their methods."

He was scheduled to address another group here today and then leave for Milwaukee, where he will speak Friday night. He has another speech scheduled in Oklahoma City Saturday night.

Just before he started his broadcast address to some 1,200 members and guests of the Irish Fellowship Club here Wednesday night, one man called out: "Give 'em hell, Joe; you're in your own ballpark now."

McCarthy evidently felt he was as he fired back at critics of his investigating methods and also carried on his controversy with Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

Referring to Stevens, the senator said, "I didn't start the fight but I think maybe I'll have to finish it."

Republicans Hold Slim Margin Against Tax Cut

Farm Program May Get Blast From McCarthy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agents of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) have been quietly checking the Department of Agriculture and Secretary Benson's agency soon may be brought under the Wisconsin senator's fire.

McCarthy, now on a Midwest-tour speaking tour, has announced he wants to make a farm speech in the Senate.

It may be the kickoff in a campaign against some of the aspects of the flexible farm price support program put before Congress by Benson with President Eisenhower's support.

Investigation by the staff of McCarthy's subcommittee of alleged Communists who may be in the department could blossom at almost any time into hearings like those conducted into some of the Army's affairs.

Benson's action in announcing a cut in dairy price supports from the present level of 90 per cent to 75 per cent on April 1 has angered McCarthy and many of his dairy farm constituents in Wisconsin.

McCarthy's attitude toward Benson—as expressed to the Wisconsin senator's friends—is that the cabinet member is a fine, upstanding gentleman whose ideas and speeches are likely to cost the Republicans Senate and House seats in the Middle West.

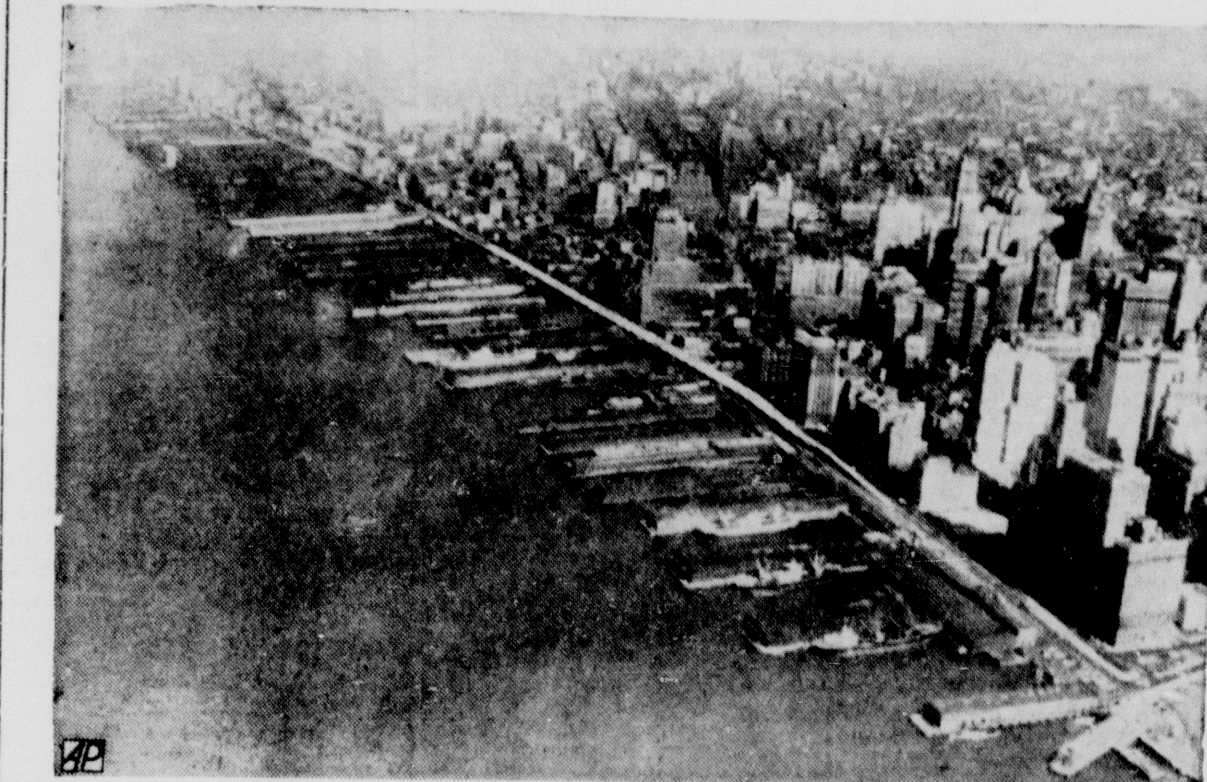

Poison Candy Lady Swallows Collection Of Pins And Needles

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The principal figure in the Lake Wales poison candy case is recovering here today from an emergency operation to remove several pins and needles from her stomach.

In a 3½-hour operation Wednesday night four open safety pins, four needles, six straight pins and a mass of 65 bobby pins were taken from the stomach of Mrs. Letha Della Overton, 49. Only one pin had pierced the stomach wall.

Her doctor said she came through the operation in "fairly good" condition.

Mrs. Overton is charged in a federal indictment with sending through the mail poisoned candy which made 20 persons in Lake Wales violently ill last December. All recovered.

Railroads Given Mail Rate Boost Of 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today granted the railroads a 10 per cent increase in the rates paid them by the government for handling the U. S. mails.

The increase is retroactive to last Oct. 1.

The ICC estimated the increase will give the rail industry about 32½ million dollars a year additional revenue. The retroactive payments for the period Oct. 1, 1953-March 31, 1954 were estimated at 16½ million.

The 10 per cent increase was not contested by the Postoffice Department, which accepted railroad data on increased operating costs since the last mail pay adjustments were made in late 1951.

Originally, the railroads had requested a 45 per cent increase in the mail pay rate. The department said this would be strenuously opposed. Finally, both sides agreed to 10 per cent.

At the brief hearing early this year, the railroads said that for the year 1952 they received $324,675,000 in mail revenues and that their out-of-pocket costs for handling this business amounted to $333,256,996, leaving a deficit of $8,581,996.

The loss, the industry reported, showed up in spite of the fact that railroad mail pay rates were practically doubled in a series of staggered increases granted by the ICC during a four-year proceeding in 1947-51.

The increase applies to 121 major railroads.

Lake Michigan Level To Drop

DETROIT (AP)—You'll never notice it swimming, but all Great Lakes levels are expected to be slightly lower this summer than last.

The U. S. Lake Survey today predicted Lakes St. Clair, Erie and Ontario will reach their highest levels in June. Michigan and Huron will reach their high in July and Superior in September, the report said.

Lakes Michigan and Huron are expected to drop 94 feet below last year to a level of 581.2 feet. This would be 2.48 feet below the record high.

Lake Erie's predicted high will reach 573.25, the report said. This would be .76 feet below last year and 1.45 below the all-time high.

Lake St. Clair's expected high level of 576.25 feet will be .68 foot below the 1953 high level and 1.26 feet below the all-time high.

Loads Limited

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department today said that weight restriction enforcements have been extended to include all black top and gravel state trunklines in the Upper Peninsula.

Normal loadings will be allowed on US31 between Muskegon and Manistee and US131 between Kalamazoo and Three Rivers.

Lansing Lawmakers Tackle Their First Appropriation Bills

LANSING (AP)—The House of Representatives today expected to get its teeth into appropriation bills for the first time.

It was also ready to give final clearing to a $4 weekly across-the-board increase in workmen's compensation.

Final votes were scheduled on measures appropriating $116 million in state school aid and $44 million to pay welfare grants and run state welfare agencies.

The chamber scheduled debate on a bill appropriating $7,386,479 for conservation, agriculture and related departments out of the state general fund. The total compares with $6,800,000 appropriated this year.

Benefits Extended
The Senate approved measure increasing benefits for workers injured on the job was advanced for final House vote without opposition.

Red Trade Bans Of U. S. Attacked

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The American delegates readied a new needle for the United States today in their campaign at the 10th Inter-American Conference to better their nation's economic lot.

This time their target was Washington's ban on shipment of strategic materials to countries of the Soviet bloc.

A working committee Wednesday night approved 10-1 a proposal calling on the United States to pay compensation whenever it bans something other American nations could ship behind the Iron Curtain. Speeches by various delegates indicated the move has general approval.

The resolution was authored by Chile, which has ideas about selling her strategic copper to the Soviet Union.

Under present laws, the United States can cut off her loans and other aid to countries which violate the ban on strategic shipments to the pro-Moscow Reds.

Key Democrats In House Facing Last-Ditch Fight

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans apparently held a slim and shifting margin of votes today against a Democratic drive for an additional $2,400,000,000 annual income tax cut.

Key Democrats, conceding the odds were now against them, planned a last-ditch fight for their proposal to increase income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent by $100.

They are battling to tack that proposal onto a general tax revision bill now before the House. The bill would overhaul almost all tax laws and provide $1,397,000,000 in revenue cuts next year through many more liberal deductions for businesses and individuals.

Bill Sure To Pass

Republican leaders stuck firmly to a prediction that the move to boost exemptions would be beaten in a showdown roll-call vote late today. President Eisenhower strongly opposes an exemption increase, terming it a political maneuver.

Both sides said there was no doubt the big, 875-page general revision bill would pass.

In five hours of heated debate Wednesday, Democrats hammered away at their theme that the GOP-sponsored revision program is loaded with huge benefits for corporations and wealthy stockholders with only scattered and light relief for the great majority of people in lower income brackets.

They insisted the exemption increase is vital to make the tax program fair to all, and to help

Two-Headed Indiana Baby Has Ailment In His Left Head

PETERSBURG, Ind. (AP)—Dr. Joseph W. Elbert said today there was little overnight change in the two-headed Hartley baby, now suffering from a circulatory disorder. The baby's physician said there was a possibility the child would be returned later today to Riley Hospital in Indianapolis, where it was kept several weeks after its birth last Dec. 12.

The ailment is in the baby's left head. Wednesday night, this head, named Daniel Kay, suffered a relapse after showing a gain in strength earlier.

The two-headed son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hartley has been ailing noticeably since Tuesday and Dr. Elbert has kept a supply of oxygen handy.

Mrs. Hartley said Daniel Kay has been weaker than the right head, Donald Ray. Dr. Elbert said the left head had been weak from birth.

French Fort Awaits More Red Assaults

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French guns from the United States and Chinese-supplied Vietminh artillery duelled at long range today across the barbed wire of Dien Bien Phu as the defenders of the big French fortress in northwest Indochina awaited more violent rebel assaults.

With clear, sunny weather the French unleashed a full fury of their airpower, too, on the Communist-led rebels' artillery posts and troops massed around the heavily fortified plain.

Latest word from the battlefield plain six miles long and four miles wide said the rebels still had not resumed the frontal assaults by thousands of screaming fanatic warriors which so far had been unable to penetrate the barbed wire ringed, bunkered heart of the fortress.

Though the French expected a resumption of the rebel charges momentarily, the Vietminh since Wednesday had steered shy of the mad, wave-on-wave rushes which had strewn the battlefield and barbed wire with an estimated 3,000 rebel dead and 9,000 wounded—equivalent of a full division.

From land and aircraft carrier bases American-supplied Hellcats, Bearcats, Privateers and B26 bombers roared over Dien Bien Phu to paste the rebels.

Spurt Indicated In U. S. Output Of Atom Power

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) said today American scientists have broken through a logjam in the development of hydrogen and atomic power, and that the achievement points to accelerated development of both weapons and civilian power.

He gave no details. His prediction followed these disclosures:

1. Members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee confirmed that a preliminary hydrogen explosion March 1 in the Pacific was three or four times heavier than scientists expected. Van Zandt estimated its power at 600 times that of the Hiroshima atom bomb, the first one used in warfare.

Bombs Stockpiled

2. Informed sources who declined to be named said the United States now is stockpiling hydrogen bombs that could be delivered anywhere in the world. This followed a statement by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) Tuesday night that this country has a deliverable hydrogen bomb. President Eisenhower asked at his news conference about Cole's statement, reserved comment until next week. Cole is chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, and Van Zandt is a member.

3. Military officials gave an Atomic Energy subcommittee what members called a "highly optimistic" review of developments in atomic energy for such nonweapon purposes as propelling ships and aircraft.

Meanwhile, two other committee members, Representatives Durham (D-NC) and Price (D-III) called upon the Atomic Energy Commission to tell the public all it can about the Pacific hydrogen blast.

Shock Felt 176 Miles

Durham estimated the blast at "several times" the strength of the first hydrogen explosion on Nov. 1, 1952.

The power of the first hydrogen blast has been officially reported. Van Zandt said it was equal to between 2½ and 3 million tons of TNT—compared with 20,000 tons for the Hiroshima blast.

Van Zandt said the latest hydrogen explosion in the Bikini-Enewetok area measured between 12 and 14 million tons. He gave this additional description:

1. The explosion shot a nuclear cloud more than 17 miles into the air.

2. The shock was felt at Kwajalein Island, 176 miles away.

3. A fall-out of nuclear dust was reported from an inhabited island 330 miles away, but it was in harmless quantities.

4. The blast was set off from a 150-foot tower and was preliminary to a larger hydrogen explosion scheduled later in the current series of Pacific tests.

Black Panther Scare Is Hoax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The black panther scare is over today and Los Angeles and the 45 other communities in the county were breathing a bit easier—or trying to, at least.

The whole thing was a hoax, whether intended or not. The jungle cat is in the cage of Wayne Roberts, a carnival owner, and has been all the time. Roberts insisted that his report to police last Monday saying the panther was missing was based on an inventory error, and not on a desire for publicity.

But before the "inventory error" was cleared up Wednesday night the phantom panther had this city in quite a tizzy. Mothers were escorting little children to school, women who worked nights were going home in taxis and the police were kept busy answering frantic calls and finding nothing but black dogs or black cats.

Roberts explained that some animals had escaped from a truck enroute from Los Angeles to Phoenix and that one of the cargo was the panther's cage. The truck driver discovered several small animals missing, detectives said they were told, and he assumed the panther was missing too, since the cage door was open.

But all the while the panther, a female, actually was in a traveling cage aboard one of several other trucks bound for Arizona.

Massacre Of Jews Stirs Up Tension

TEL AVIV, Israel—Tension gripped the border areas of Israel and her Arab neighbors today as Israeli investigators and U. N. observers probed the reported Negev massacre of 11 Jews by a gang of Arabs Wednesday.

(Newspapers in Beirut, Lebanon, carried dispatches from Jordan, reporting that Israeli troops were concentrating on the Jordan border. The dispatches said the Jordan government has taken "immediate security measures." Travelers from Syria reaching Beirut reported a steady stream of Syrian military vehicles were moving southward, presumably to assist Jordan if necessary.)

Sufragettes Have Strike In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Police took Mrs. Doria Shafik, Egypt's sufragette leader, and seven of her supporters to hospital today.

With them went Mrs. Charlotte Weller, wife of Chicago Daily News European Correspondent George Weller. She joined the hunger strikers Monday in a token of sympathy.

At the hospital Mrs. Shafik declared: "My companions and I are going to continue the hunger strike until we die or until Egyptian women are granted their rights."

Mrs. Weller left them early this afternoon for Alexandria from where she sails aboard the liner Independence tonight.

There was still no answer to a request to President Mohamed Naguib to consider the women's demands.

As Mrs. Weller walked out of the hospital still as briskly as if she had had three square meals a day since Monday instead of a meager diet of lemonade and water, she told newsmen her impressions.

"The first two days you feel a bit depressed. But after that you feel full of pep and fight. Doria and the others feel so too," she said.

Union Explains Strike Ballot

The executive board of Local 632, UAW-CIO, the Harnischfeger union, reported today that contract negotiations between the union and Harnischfeger Corp. had been concluded before the union decided to post notice of a strike vote.

The union statement contended that the bargaining session last Friday, March 19, was agreed upon by the company after the union had posted its strike notice.

The union statement follows: "The executive board of Local 632, UAW-CIO, Harnischfeger Employees of Escanaba wishes to correct an erroneous report made by Mr. Robert Losse, Harnischfeger plant manager, regarding current bargaining sessions.

"The Harnischfeger Company gave their final stand as of noon Thursday, March 11. This concluded bargaining.

"Being a democratic organization, it is the rule of the UAW-CIO to post a notice of a strike ballot seven days prior to voting. This the membership of Local 632, UAW-CIO, voted unanimously to do at their meeting Sunday, March 14.

"The Friday, March 19, bargaining session was agreed upon by the company only after strike notice had been posted.

"On Thursday, March 11, the company refused all proposed changes in the present contract and the company initiated counter-proposals which were not accepted by the union at their meeting Sunday, March 14.

"The final analysis of bargaining between Harnischfeger Co. and Local 632 was not only wages but also the loss of seniority provisions in the present contract and an equitable solution of an incentive plan for non-productive employees."

The union will conduct the strike balloting at the Union Hall Monday between the hours of 12 noon and 12 midnight.

Smelt By The Ton:

Fishermen Ask Delay In Sending Icebreaker Here

Escanaba commercial fishermen, now harvesting a bumper crop of Little Bay de Noc smelt, today joined in an appeal to the U. S. Coast Guard to delay sending an icebreaker here that would end the ice fishing season.

Pointing out that the first ore boat to Escanaba is not expected for at least another month and that the remaining ice in the bay should not be broken up by the icebreaker unless it is essential to navigation, the fishermen asked Coast Guard headquarters at Cleveland to hold off with ice-breaking as long as possible.

"This means thousands of dollars each day to the community," said Roy Jensen, speaking for the fishermen.

Smelt Big Business
About 25,000 to 30,000 pounds of smelt are being brought to market each day in the Escanaba area. The fishermen are receiving 6 cents per pound for their fish.

This together with the wages paid for labor, for shipping boxes, in trucking and other services required by the industry means an estimated revenue of $2,500 to $3,000 per day to the people of the community, Jensen said.

Commercial fishermen today became alarmed over the possibility of an icebreaker coming here when the Conservation Department reported it had received inquiries from the Coast Guard concerning the scope of fishing activities in Little Bay de Noc.

Suffered Storm Loss
Local officers of the Conservation Department were advised by the fishermen that 20 pound nets and about 200 gill nets were set through the ice in Little Bay de Noc north of Portage Point. It is with these nets that the bumper crop of smelt is being harvested.

The outer section of ice in Little Bay de Noc moved out last weekend during a storm. The fishermen lost to use a large number of nets at a most productive season of the year.

Now they are anxious to continue the ice fishing season as long as possible to make up for their losses. They are willing to pull out their nets if there is necessity for it, but they see no reason for the icebreaker coming in long before navigation is scheduled to open, Jensen said.

Proposed Tax Levy Discussed

A proposed 2 mill tax levy to assist in financing Delta County bridge improvements, county government operations, and the schools districts of the county government operations, and the schools districts of the county was last night's selected topic at the Discussion Club's meeting last night in Carnegie Public Library.

The special 2 mill tax levy will be submitted to the citizens of Delta County in an election to be held April 5. It will be submitted to the voters for decision by unanimous action of the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

The proposal is to increase the tax levy by 2 mills for five years (1954-1958, inclusive) for the following purposes:

One mill to the Delta County Road Commission for the rehabilitation and restoring of bridges in Delta County.

One-half mill to Delta County for county operation and government.

One-half million to school districts of Delta County.

The discussion centered on the proposed 2 mill levy and the valuation of taxable property among the townships and cities, which comprise the county's political units, each with its own assessor. The 15-mill tax limitation law and the annual division of millage by the county tax allocation commission also were discussed.

Soo Locks Will Be Featured In Movies During Centennial

SAULT STE. MARIE—Production of a Hollywood feature picture in Sault Ste. Marie during 1955 in which the Sault and the Locks will play a leading part is a definite probability.

In a telephone call with Helen Mack, Sault member of the Soo Locks Centennial Commission, Stanley Rubin, Universal Pictures producer said late Monday that he is optimistic that he can secure the script he wants, in which case photographic work would begin in the Sault beginning March 15, 1955.

In May, 1953 Mrs. Mack and Paquin suggested to James Fisher, associate story editor of Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation that he review William Ratigan's story, "Gangway For Tomorrow," as material for a picture. The story is an historical novel of the building of the first lock. It was suggested to Fisher that a premier of such a picture during the centennial would be mutually advantageous. Fisher replied that his company was not interested in the particular story but was interested in the possibilities and would consult with his superiors. At the May, 1953 meeting of the Centennial Commission Mrs. Mack announced that negotiations with the Hollywood concern were under way.

Rubin made no estimate of the time schedule but expressed a hope that the picture could be completed in time for a world premiere in the Sault before the close of the centennial year.

Springlike Trend Due To Continue Through Tomorrow

Southerly winds, blowing off Lake Michigan will bring showers followed by snow tonight and early tomorrow according to the forecast of the Escanaba weather bureau. There will be little change in temperature.

Yesterday's temperature reached a high of 36 and remained above freezing throughout the night, doing away with practically all of the heavy snow left by the weekend blizzard. The low this morning was 32 which rose to 37 at 10. It will reach 40 by mid-afternoon. In inland areas, away from the influence of lake breezes, the temperature is likely to reach 50.

Weather condition almost the same as those prevailing in Escanaba and vicinity are general throughout Upper Michigan.

Slightly colder is expected for Saturday and Sunday.

The springlike trend is general throughout the east and middle west.

High winds are still stirring up dust storms in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Manistique Man Stricken Ill In Gould City Cabin

MANISTIQUE — John Whitcomb, 44, of Manistique, was admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital last night at 10:30, suffering an apparent overdose of sleeping tablets. His condition was reported as good.

According to State Police who investigated the case, Whitcomb was at his cabin near Gould City. He fired a shotgun through the doorway of the cabin to attract attention of neighbors when he became ill.

Lemia Rushford, a neighbor, found Whitcomb lying on a table and thought that Whitcomb may have been injured by the shotgun blast. He notified State Police at Newberry who examined Whitcomb and found no wounds. It appeared that Whitcomb had taken an overdose of drugs, police reported.

He was removed to the hospital in Manistique.

Mr. Rushford and family reside in the Tannery Location in Manistique.

The cabin is located four miles west of Gould City at the junction of US-2 and M-135. Newberry police were called at 8:57 p. m.

Little Man Saves 240-Pound Worker Overcome In Tank

CHICAGO (AP)—A little man was a big hero Wednesday in rescuing a 240-pound man who collapsed in a waste oil tank 14 feet below ground surface.

Edward Nitka, 24, was overcome by oil fumes and lay unconscious 45 minutes in the tank before he was rescued. Nitka and Edward Enright, 28, had been taking turns in cleaning the tank. Because of their size they were unable to take oxygen equipment through a narrow manhole into the tank.

After Nitka collapsed, Enright shouted for help and members of a city electrical crew working nearby rushed to the scene. A Fire Department rescue squad also was summoned and the two smallest members entered the tank and fastened a rope to Nitka. But after they came to the surface for aid they found they couldn't re-enter the tank because their clothing was soaked with perspiration.

Then the smallest man with the city electrical crew, Frank Pranschke, volunteered to enter the tank. Pranschke, who is 5 feet 6 and weighs 145 pounds, succeeded in maneuvering Nitka into a position where the men above ground could pull Nitka to the surface.

Nitka regained consciousness after being taken to a hospital where his condition was reported satisfactory.

Fluoridation Issue Should Be Settled With Big 'Yes' Vote

ON April 5 voters of Escanaba will decide whether the city shall add fluorides to the municipal water supply as a means of reducing dental caries.

The vote will not be binding on the City Council but it is obvious that the Council will be guided by the wishes of the voters.

The issue of fluoridation has been fought out in many cities of the country. In others fluoridation has been instituted without much fuss and without opposition.

Milwaukee, where brewing in a huge industry, got into a community rumpos over the fluoridation issue but the issue was not so much whether fluoridation was helpful or harmful to health. The issue there was whether the fluoridation of water might put Milwaukee beer at a competitive disadvantage with beer manufactured elsewhere. The breweries themselves finally conceded that adding fluorides to the water supply had no effect whatsoever on the quality of the beer. As a result Milwaukee is fluoridating its water supply now.

On a purely scientific basis, the issue is insignificant. Virtually all reputable scientists concede that fluoridation of water has no adverse effect upon health but that it does have beneficial results in preventing tooth decay.

The Delta County Dental Society is leading the campaign for fluoridation of water. The society recognizes the scientific facts that support the arguments for fluoridation.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Here are a few more of those off-the-beaten-track words, the ones which we recognize in reading from their context, words which we should like to have in our own writing and speaking vocabularies but which remain just a bit elusive. By studying these words carefully, finding out where they come from and what they mean we shall be able to add them to our working vocabulary. Remember: once you learn a new word, you have only to use it three times in writing and speaking—and it's yours for life.

"Succinct" (pronounced suk-SINKT) is a word which comes to English from the Latin succinctus meaning, literally, "tucked in" and refers to the way Roman men tucked up their flowing togas when there was need for swift, decisive action. Thus a succinct style of writing is one which is concise and terse, devoid of fancy ornament—in a phrase, "stripped for action."

"Castigation" and "denigration" are two words from the sizable category of words of abuse. Castigation (pronounced kas-TIGH-shun) literally means severe criticism occasionally carried to the extent of physical punishment. From the Latin words castus, pure, and ago, make, castigate originally meant to purge or make pure by punishment. In Colonial times the ducking stools used to punish lawbreakers were sometimes called "castigatories." Today, though, when one castigates a rival, he merely criticizes him verbally.

When you denigrate (pronounced DEN-ih-grayt) a person, though, you are doing him much more costly damage than mere critics could effect, because denigration, from the Latin denigro, to blacken, means to defame an opponent by blackening his character. Thus a historian might write: "In the sordid campaign of 1888, denigration of candidates by their political foes became the order of the day." And, of course, this practice is not unknown today.

Correct answers given by school kids are mighty good passing remarks.

A deep sea diver has written a book about his experiences. Down the ladder to success.

It's much nicer when a wife is made happy by candy and flowers—rather than suspicious.

The Doctor Says . . . Dog's Hepatitis Will Not Be Contracted by Humans

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

This writer, like the author of today's first letter, also has a dog which became ill with hepatitis, and perhaps there are many others who may be worried about the same problem which she raises.

Q—I have been much concerned about our cocker spaniel puppy which we loved very much. She was sick about a week with fever and vomiting, and although treated by the veterinarian she died from what he said was hepatitis. The children handled her a good deal and I am worried sick about whether they might get this from the puppy.

Mrs. W. W.

A—There is a disease of human beings commonly called infectious hepatitis or epidemic jaundice which is caused by a virus which attacks principally the liver. The disease in dogs is probably also caused by a virus, but probably the two are not alike, and at any rate, there does not seem to be much, if any, danger from contracting it from dogs. I have heard of no reports of human cases of epidemic hepatitis directly contracted in this manner.

Q—I am troubled with my right hand and arm going to sleep or becoming numb, particularly at night. The hand swells and burns. What can you suggest?

Mrs. F. L.

A—It sounds very much as though there tion in the public interest.

The opponents of fluoridation argue that fluorides are toxic and therefore harmful. The amount of fluoride added to the water supply is only one part per million, an amount that is so small that it has no toxic effect at all.

Hundreds of cities throughout the nation are now fluoridating their water supply. More cities are being added to the list every month.

There should be no hesitation on the part of the Escanaba voters on the issue of fluoridation. A "Yes" vote should be cast by everyone who is interested in better dental health for their children.

Statehood Wrangle Shames U. S. A.

OBSERVERS in the capital seem convinced that statehood for Hawaii has suffered a severe setback from the recent Senate action in combining this issue with Alaskan statehood. There is no question the maneuver was a defeat for the administration, which wanted Hawaii considered alone, and first.

Some who voted for the combination sincerely believe equal merit is found in both statehood cases. Others either privately or publicly oppose statehood for either territory. They figure the combination cannot pass.

Politics and regional sentiments are tightly bound up in the whole matter. Republicans believe Hawaii would be theirs, and in the present precarious state of the GOP hold on Congress, two more Republican senators would be important.

The Democrats, on the other hand count on Alaska to go for them and balance the situation. Some southern Democrats appear to dread any change, feeling it might upset the present favorable balance of power in support of their cause on the explosive civil rights issue.

Mixed in with these convictions are those of men who honestly think Alaska is still unfit for statehood and men who believe Hawaii is unqualified because allegedly dominated by Red-controlled labor unions. To any outsider measuring this whole performance as a test of the wisdom and fairness and generous spirit which are supposed to mark a free people, this statehood tangle must seem a shabby show.

GETTING TOUGH WITH TOUGH JUVENILES (Menominee Herald Leader)

Menominee's juvenile court will have 11 boys in to answer charges of vandalism and theft committed in three days. The boys are as young as 10 and the offenses with which they are charged are as serious as entering in the nighttime. Youths entered two schools and a cafe, rode wild in a truck in a lumber yard and wantonly broke windows in a warehouse and in automobiles in a factory parking lot. There were 11 boys in three gangs involved in three criminal excursions. All this happened within three nights and it is the sort of thing that prompts talk like "What's this young generation up to?"

A pattern of relationship and of lax family discipline and previous offenses seems to have influenced leadership in two of the cases. In the other, two youngsters were on a senseless spree of destruction.

Life magazine, studying the chief sources of juvenile delinquency, opines that the first place to prevent it is the family. "If a child is sure that his parents love him, the chances that he will ever be tried in juvenile court are small. There has been a good deal of talk lately about how we should get tough with our juvenile delinquents . . . But the only way toughness will solve the national problem is when parents begin to get tough with themselves."

Q—My son and I lived for about a year breathing small but constant amounts of natural gas fumes from stove and hot water heater in our apartment. Is this likely to cause us any harm?
R. F.

A—If this was not harmful at the time it occurred it seems unlikely that there would be any chronic bad effects since in all probability the gases breathed in would have been eliminated fairly promptly. It is dangerous, however, to be in a room filled with gas fumes, and every effort should be made at all times to make sure that cooking or heating equipment is in proper shape so that it does not allow fumes to escape into the air you breathe.

Q—What is the most successful treatment for bleeding piles?
M. C. D.

A—Surgery.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—While the nation has been intrigued, mystified and absorbed in the McCarthy-Cohn-Schine fight with the Army, the nation's most important and complicated tax bill in 20 years is almost totally understood in the house of representatives.

With only a few days to study its 875 intricate pages, no congressman no matter how conscientious could possibly vote intelligently on this bill. Even Treasury Department experts who helped write the bill admit that certain sections don't turn out to mean what was intended. The only thing the experts agree on is that for years to come the tax lawyers will make money interpreting the kinks in this bill.

Democratic members of the house of representatives, however, have decided—with the exception of one man—to send the bill back to the ways and means committee with instructions to change only one section. They would eliminate the provision whereby those who receive dividends are given a preferred status over those who earn salaries and wages. In its place Democrats would substitute a $100 increase in personal tax exemption, thereby helping lower bracket taxpayers and taking about 7,000,000 people off the tax rolls.

The one Democrat who disagrees with this almost unanimous stand by Democratic congressmen is Thurman Chatham of North Carolina, who doesn't believe there should be a new tax bill at all. Chatham's family manufactures the famous Chatham blankets, and if he voted for the Republican bill he and his family would reap a bonanza, because first, their income comes from dividends; second, because the new tax bill is considered God's gift to big business.

Regardless of personal benefit, however, Chatham doesn't believe this is a time to reduce the nation's income, and a lot of other Democrats and Republicans privately agree with him.

REPUBLICANS ON SPOT

When it comes to a vote to recommit the tax bill, about 20 Republican congressmen are on the spot. In the past they introduced bills to increase the personal exemption of individual taxpayers, and now they are called upon by President Eisenhower, Speaker Joe Martin and the GOP leadership to vote against a better break for personal tax exemption.

In other words they're called upon to vote directly against what they've already proposed, also against the Democrats who are solidly for what these Republicans originally proposed.

And since the bills these 20 Republicans have introduced are all a matter of record, they'll have a hard time explaining the switch to voters back home. Some, like forthright Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, aren't going to do any explaining. Mrs. Rogers plans to vote her convictions and with the Democrats, regardless of the urging of GOP leaders.

Others who have introduced similar bills for higher personal exemption and are on the spot include:

Bennett, Clardy and Bentley, Mich.; Busbey and Mason, Ill.; Cole, Pillion and Wharton, N. Y.; Kersten, Wis.; Poff, Va.; Reese, Kans.; Saylor and Simpson Penna.; and Utt, Calif.

In addition to the above who have proposed raising the personal tax exemption, five other Republicans have introduced bills proposing increased benefits for those who are blind, aged or disabled, or who have dependents in this category. They are: Bates, Mass.; Hagen, Minn.; Javits, N. Y.; McDonough, Calif.; and Warburton, Del.

Other congressmen are watching to see how the 20 vote in the final showdown.

BOILING DEMOCRATS

What makes Democratic congressmen so sore about the administration's bill is first, the loopholes favoring big business; second, the manner in which the bill was rammed through the ways and means committee.

The ways and means committee is charged with writing the nation's tax laws. In the past this has been done by both Democratic and Republican members, usually over a period of many months. The work is so exacting that committee members are excused from attending regular sessions of congress and concentrate only on taxes.

What irked the Democrats, however, is that this time, the tax bill was drafted by the Republicans separately, then handed to the Democrats. Then it was rammed through the committee in six weeks, before the Democrats had any real chance to consider it.

Since the bill is 875 pages long, and goes into the most minute and complicated provisions, it takes careful study and the advice of tax lawyers to get any real idea of what's in it. Despite this, ways and means committee members were not permitted to take copies of the bill outside the committee room for study overnight. Chairman Dan Reed, tax czar of congress, forbade it. Reed required each member to surrender his copy as he left the committee room.

"How can we vote intelligently on these provisions unless we can study them overnight?" protested Congressman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas who has been helping write tax bills for years.

But the 78-year-old chairman said no. Furthermore, Reed would only permit ways and means committee members to vote provisions out of the bill. They could not vote to put anything in. In other words the committee did not write a tax bill. They simply took a bill handed them by the Treasury and were permitted to vote only on whether to take any of its provisions out.

Finally, Uncle Dan Reed has a gag rule on the bill so it cannot be amended during house floor debate. It has to be taken as is or not at all. That's why the Democrats will vote to send it back to committee with an instruction to substitute the higher personal exemption for the preference now given to dividend holders.

Hidden Heroes:

How U.S. Reds Seek Revenge On Citizens Who Expose Them

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A handful of U. S. citizens who joined the Communist Party in various cities to report on its activities to the FBI have made a vital contribution to breaking the back of the Party's treasonous activities in America, according to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

These persons have received numerous national awards for outstanding patriotism and have been widely acclaimed as heroes.

At the same time, Hoover warns that the Communist menace in the U. S. is far from ended. Proof of the truth of this warning is the shocking effectiveness with which the Party has been able to strike back at the FBI's former undercover workers.

One of the most unfortunate victims is William G. Cummings, a Toledo Negro who is considered one of the most effective witnesses of the group against the Party by the Justice Department. He infiltrated the Party to its top echelon in Ohio, traveled all over the country in Party work and became intimately acquainted with the top Reds in the U. S. and their activities.

His testimony in more than a half-dozen Smith Act trials around the country has been of great help in sending many of the top Communists to jail. Not one shred of the information he has supplied has been proved wrong. Justice attorneys claim, and his facts have stood up under the withering cross-examination of Communist attorneys.

Yet today Bill Cummings is beset by numerous personal and financial woes, due exclusively, he contends, to Communist Party retaliation.

He has been dropped from his regular job as a skilled machine operator and is barely able to keep his large family eating and clothed, thanks to part-time consultant work the Department of Justice has given him.

A great many of the Negroes in the neighborhood he lives in have been turned against him, his family and the handful of friends who have remained loyal to him, through whispered hate campaigns.

In a stinging pronouncement he was publicly thrown out of the church in which he had been a faithful member for many years. Just after his undercover role was revealed, the city council tried to give him a public commendation for his contribution to the security of America. But it was killed by a bitter attack on his character, which got widest circulation in Toledo.

He has received awards from a Toledo business group and the Toledo Municipal League, however.

Cummings, a giant of a man who looks amazingly young for his 43 years, is astonishingly good-natured about his plight. "Just gotta roll with the punches," he says. "I've made an awful lot of good friends through this work, and that's worth plenty," he adds.

He's most upset about his 18-year-old son, William Jr., who is attending Ohio State University. He is an outstanding athlete who made the freshman football team last fall and is a sure bet for the varsity. Cummings is having a desperate time keeping the boy in school and feels some left-wing influence somewhere is keeping him from getting the financial help afforded most college athletes of his son's caliber.

He tells about another son, Lemuel, 21, now in the Air Force in Japan, who suddenly began having unreasonable trouble from one of his high school teachers. He found that the teacher's husband had worked with him in the Communist Party, but as a regular.

Cummings insists his being out of his regular job has nothing to do with any left-wing influence, however. "I'm temporarily laid off because of business conditions and my lack of seniority in the union."

For his work for the FBI on the West Coast, Norman Lloyd Hamlin received "The Book of Golden Deeds" award from the San Diego Exchange Club. Hamlin says of Communist retaliation:

"CP leaders work through their dupes who are many times well-to-do persons in the various communities. These are whispering campaigns and propaganda drives more successful than any direct physical violence could be."

Mariane Kowall, now trying to begin life anew on the West Coast after giving up a promising modeling and dancing career to join the Party in New York, is finding the going very difficult. Her work for the government was revealed only recently.

"I never had any doubt about the trouble I was in for," she says. "While I was in the Party I heard them boast many times that they could prevent Party enemies from rising to better positions in all organizations, from show business to the teaching fields."

Louis Budenz, the well-known ex-Communist who has done so much to help build a legal case against the Communist Party, doesn't fit the category of the others in this survey, but he is subject to the same smear campaigns. He says:

"The insidious aspect of this attack is the way they get seemingly respectable, non-Communists to carry the burden of attack against you."

You are the nicest opposite lawyer I have ever met.—Eleanor Holm Rose, to ex-husband's lawyer, after getting divorce.

If they (the Free World leaders) try to put Korea under the Japanese, we'd rather join up under communism than Japan. That's the Korean sentiment.—Syngman Rhee.

There is no other solution for humanity but to build the world anew in the spirit of Christ . . . let men in high places come to realize the absolute necessity of this, because by ignoring God or denying Him, they will build even more precariously than at present.—Pope Pius XII.

Good Evening . . .

THE TEACHER—Among the persons most often viewed with respect in any community are the school teachers.

For there is a definite characteristic shared by all good teachers that brings the respect of everyone: The ability to inspire young people to learn, to arouse their confidence in living, to prepare them for a useful and well-adjusted adulthood.

What would this country be without its school teachers? Without its educational system that provides equal opportunity to rich and poor?

Indeed it would be a less forward-looking and progressive nation. For the good teacher in the good school stimulates the mind to question as well as to accept, to reason as well as to believe, and to seek the truth.

Such is the role of the teacher in educational systems—and the needs is for more teachers as the national population and school enrollment increases.

THE REMEMBERED ONE—The Michigan Education Journal, seeking to arouse the interest of more young men and women in teaching careers, has published several articles written by persons training for teaching jobs.

Miss Cynthia Eaton, University of Michigan senior, writes the latest in the series under the title "Why I Want To Be a Teacher." The answer is revealing, for it shows the continuing good effect of the teacher upon the minds and lives of young people.

Miss Eaton remembers a third grade teacher "who gave me confidence in myself."

"To emulate the kindness of this person, to provide similar experiences for others, and to perpetuate the profession that made such kindness and such experiences possible became my first reasons for wanting to be a teacher."

The inspiration continued through High School and into the University, where she found teachers creating "human personality by giving encouragement, stimulating interests, exposing abilities, and broadening intellectual horizons."

"And here lies the fundamental reason that has drawn me toward teaching," Miss Eaton concludes.

MEETING THE CHALLENGE—While there is a serious teacher shortage at the present time, there are more young people today of High School age who are seriously interested in training to become teachers—to supply the demand.

The old law of supply and demand is evident in the manifestation of aroused interest in teaching careers. Here is a field in which the qualified young man or woman can find a position without difficulty.

Granted that teachers' salaries are still in need of some adjustment, there is the added appeal to young people in the knowledge they will be employed in a professional position which is ripe with opportunity—particularly for those who are interested in administrative work.

Always however, there are young people like Miss Eaton whose interest in teaching stems from a deep conviction that they can be of service to youth. This feeling is shared by every teacher and no doubt is the motivation for continuing—if not choosing—teaching as a career.

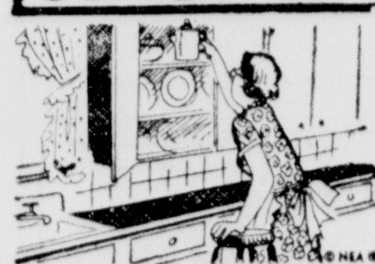

THE BRIGHTER DAY—No doubt the renewed interest of young people in training to become teachers also stems from the knowledge that a healthier and brighter working atmosphere is becoming apparent in America.

Forces whose activities have thrown a cloud of doubt over the patriotism of teachers, the effectiveness of educational systems, and the sincerity of those charged with the responsibility of administration are being exposed as a threat to the traditional concept of American freedom.

The critics of the schools have shouted too long and too loud, they have sounded too many false alarms, in their emotional frenzy. The swing is toward a sane and reasonable evaluation that will materially benefit the schools.

And the people in every community who know their teachers, who respect and admire them for their sincere and able work, will recognize that the future calls for more—not fewer—sincere and able young people to enter the teaching field.

What President Wants:

Eisenhower Gives Congress Long List Of Chores For This Session

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY
WASHINGTON—Congress faces a long list of chores in 1954. The taskmaster, President Eisenhower, has sent 196 specific requests for legislative action to Capitol Hill, according to a tabulation by Congressional Quarterly.

The President's Feb. 17 message on atomic energy substituted 15 recommendations for three more general requests submitted earlier, raising the total to within striking distance of the 200 circle.

Republicans and Democrats agree that the voters next November will judge the President and the 83rd Congress largely by the fate of the Administration's legislative program. Both parties' candidates will have to justify their treatment of controversial White House recommendations.

Congress has started many of the President's proposals on their way to enactment—holding hearings and reporting bills from committees to the floor. Among the recommendations already in the statute books is one which discharges Commodity Credit Corporation indebtedness due to losses on farm price supports. The Senate has passed a bill to carry out one of the President's major recommendations — authorization of U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway. The St. Lawrence measure is pending in the House.

In sifting down Mr. Eisenhower's recommendations, CQ: Confined the list to requests by the President, eliminating recommendations submitted only by his subordinates; eliminated generalized requests; omitted nominations and appropriations requests; eliminated duplications, listing each recommendation in its most concrete form; omitted most recommendations which require no new Congressional action.

CQ has organized the 196 proposals by broad subject categories. The President has asked Congress to:

Seek Rerouting Of Israel Pipeline

BEIRUT (AP)—Iraq wants a big oil pipeline planned to end in Haifa in Israel to be diverted through Syria to the Lebanon coast. The line was partially built in 1948 but was never finished because of the Israel-Arab war which still is going on despite a cease fire.

If the line were completed by the new route it could increase by 7 1/2 million tons the 36 million tons now pumped through Lebanon, Iraq officials say.

Meanwhile, officials of the Iraq Petroleum Co., dominated by the British have denied that the big, idle oil refinery in Haifa will be moved to Lebanon.

Tax Payments Reach Record High In City

There was no economic "recession" in Escanaba last year if the record payment of taxes on all-time high levies is an indication.

Records in the office of City Clerk George Harvey show that Escanaba taxpayers paid 97.3 per cent of their city taxes and 95.5 per cent of their county and school taxes before the delinquent deadline.

These record high tax collections compare to the previous record of 1952, which was 96.5 per cent for city taxes and 95.01 per cent for county and school taxes.

The 1953 record collections were on levies that were also at an all-time high.

City tax levy for 1953 totaled $243,607.85 of which 97.3 per cent or $237,128.57 was collected; the county and school tax levy in the city totaled $311,770.66, of which 95.5 per cent or $297,905.43 was collected.

The amount delinquent, which will be returned to the office of the county treasurer for collections with the assessment of penalties, totals $21,131.98. Of this total, $18,720.62 is delinquent real estate taxes, and $2,411.36 is delinquent personal property taxes.

The low percentage of delinquency is generally regarded as an indication of favorable economic conditions in the community. During the depression years of the 1930's tax delinquencies were high and a number of properties reverted to the state because the owners were unable to pay taxes which were much lower than today.

Auto Driver Serves Day Of Remembrance

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Leo Cook, 27, was serving his day of remembrance in Muskegon County jail today. Four more await him over the next four years.

It was part of the unusual sentence imposed on Cook by Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox. A year ago today Cook's auto hit a tree, killing his 19-year-old wife Muriel and fatally injuring their 2-year-old daughter.

Judge Fox sent Cook to jail for 55 days on a manslaughter charge and put him on probation for five years. The judge added a provision that Cook spend 24 hours behind bars on the anniversary of the accident each year of the probation period.

Blue Tie Not For Pat On St. Patrick's Day

DETROIT (AP)—What would an Irishman do if told he had to wear a blue tie on St. Patrick's day?

Patrick J. McMahon, born in County Clare 55 years ago, took the day off from work.

McMahon and a number of other city bus drivers showed up for their runs Wednesday sporting green ties. The stationmaster told them they'd have to change to regulation blue.

Some changed, but not Pat. He went home instead, explaining:

"My father would turn over in his grave if I didn't wear a green tie."

STOCKING UP—During a fashion show, there's scant time for changing costumes. The other day a bevy of New York models rashly boasted, "We are the world's fastest stocking-changers." One of them said she could take off a pair of stockings and don another in 38 seconds flat. Slowpoke of the group took 52 seconds. A bevy of Columbus, Ohio, models emitted a ladylike

"phooey to you-ey" and went to work, timed by a stopwatch. Shirley Lewis, second from right, above, made the quick change in 25 seconds. Slowpoke of the Ohio bunch was Beverly Robinson, center, who made the quick change in a fast 45 seconds. Other hose-hoisters are Sue Key, left, Barbara Joe Hilliker and Barbara Ann Harper, right.

Town At Standstill As Banker Absconds With All The Money

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—The economy of Clio collapsed March 7, but its stricken residents are fighting back under the leadership of the aged father of the man who plunged them to financial ruin.

R. W. Reynolds has promised to turn over $25,000 to the friends who trusted his missing son with their life savings. The townspeople know that would "just about clean the old man out."

Reynolds, 72-year-old owner of a fertilizer and seed concern, said $25,000 is every penny he and members of his family can scrape together to help make up a deficit of between $80,000 and $100,000.

He is also looking after 14-year-old Tommy Reynolds while the boy's parents are the object of a nationwide search.

Despite appeals through radio and newspapers, 40-year-old Royal Reynolds and his wife, Sue, have not been found.

Reynolds was president of the Merchants' Exchange, an unchartered institution which operated much like a bank.

The town, meanwhile, is a place of tragedy. About 900 persons live here.

Trade is at a standstill. The offices of doctors and dentists are all but empty. Farmers can't get on with their spring planting.

Many children don't have lunch money for school, but the cafeteria doesn't turn away a merchant. Merchants are extending liberal credit as long as stock remains on their shelves, but many storeowners lost their small working capital and may not be able to restock when the supply runs out.

The operating fund of the town's largest store, as well as all the funds for the school cafeteria, disappeared together with Reynolds March 7.

The tragedy is evident when the people who trusted Reynolds come into Mayor Dan Easterling's office and attempt to give some estimate of their loss. Usually they just stammer, tears coming instead of words.

About $81,800 of exchange money is in the First National Bank of Atlanta, but the records went with Reynolds and there is no way to tell how it should be divided.

Last week townspeople issued an appeal to the missing banker, promising not to prosecute him if he would return any money left or at least send back the records.

The program will be opened by two selections by the Rock Accordion Band.

Students participating in the speech contest are:

Oratorical declamation: Rodney Bartlett, "The Power of Books,"

Dramatic dialogue: Gloria Saari, "Home-coming"; Patricia Rinard, "Daddy Doc"; Nancy Saari, "Eyes"; Diane Jacks, "The Murder of Lidice."

The accordion band will play two selections to close the program.

Miss Madeline Holt, speech instructor at Negaunee High School, will judge the contest. The speech coach is Miss Lois Murker.

The public is invited.

Slayer Of Wife Admits Bigamy

CHICAGO (AP)—A railroad bag-gageman accused of killing two of his wives was identified by a state prosecutor today as a bigamist with another wife and two small children at Benton Harbor, Mich.

John Krawczewicz, 41, was arrested Tuesday night after his estranged third wife, Bertha, 36, was shot to death.

Krawczewicz was quoted by assistant state's attorney Frank Ferlic as saying he killed his third wife because he was afraid she would reveal he married her in 1952 without divorcing his second wife, Dorothy Veronica McFaul.

Mrs. McFaul and their two children, now aged 6 and 5, live at 283 Seaboard, Benton Harbor. Ferlic said Krawczewicz deserted her in 1949 a few months after the second child was born.

Ferlic said Krawczewicz married wife No. 3 under the name of John S. Krawt on March 3, 1952, and that they separated early this month.

Krawczewicz, held without charge, served eight years in prison for killing his first wife, Betty, at Benton Harbor in 1938.

The tragedy is evident when the people who trusted Reynolds come into Mayor Dan Easterling's office and attempt to give some estimate of their loss. Usually they just stammer, tears coming instead of words.

About $81,800 of exchange money is in the First National Bank of Atlanta, but the records went with Reynolds and there is no way to tell how it should be divided.

Last week townspeople issued an appeal to the missing banker, promising not to prosecute him if he would return any money left or at least send back the records.

Army Promotion Denied Disloyal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today the armed services have 51 drafted doctors and dentists who have been denied commissions — 20 because of "very questionable loyalty."

Wilson said the remaining 31 were refused commission because in some respect other than serious loyalty doubts they failed to qualify as officers.

Of the 51 physicians and dentists, he said, two are in the Air Force and the rest in the Army. The Navy has none.

Wilson gave the figures to the Senate Armed Services Committee under questioning by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.).

"Twenty out of the 15,000 doctors we have drafted is not a considerable number," Wilson said.

"I don't want anyone to get the idea we have many disloyal doctors."

Wilson led a group of top Pentagon officials, including Secretary of the Army Stevens, before the Senate committee for a discussion of how the armed services are handling the problem of Communist infiltration and subversion.

Specifically, they want a change in the doctors draft law to make it clear that a drafted doctor or dentist need not be commissioned if there is any question of his loyalty.

There has been a ruling by one court that a commission is mandatory.

Wilson said doctors of questionable loyalty will not be commissioned.

"We'll discharge them before we'll commission them," he declared.

On the point of whether they could be given dishonorable discharges, Wilson said he thought they could but that the Army hesitates to do it without court martial trials.

New England Region Work Weeks Shrink

Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news analyst, is touring the nation to write the story of business today as he sees it.

By SAM DAWSON

BOSTON (AP)—Your New England cousin can explain a "rolling adjustment" to you if you're wondering what this business jargon is all about. He's already had one.

In three years, employment in the soft goods industries (largely textiles) dropped 70,000 in this area. Large numbers of these workers are still out of jobs.

And Yankees just now seem to be rolling with another one.

The hard goods industries, which grew rapidly in New England—adding 72,000 jobs in the same three years, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reports—now hire a few less workers than a year ago.

March Gains Noted

Work weeks are tending to shrink a little in almost all industries around here, the regional office of the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

But the drop in industrial output in the area seems to be just about the same 10 per cent it is for the nation as a whole.

And March is shyly bringing some slight seasonal gains in employment, although the BLS says not enough to hoist factory work-rolls back to last year's level.

New Englanders tell you that national conditions will call the tune for many of their new metal-working factories henceforth, because most of them make parts or supplies for others elsewhere. If these outsiders slow down consumer goods production, New England will find orders scarcer. And many here have been doing sub-contracts for defense programs whose days seem numbered.

Expansion Continues

Retail trade, however, remains almost as good as a year ago.

New England shows some districts that are definitely depressed, while others still ride high.

Expansion plans go on, for the long-haul. New factories are under way in some places—while in others textile mills are abandoned, or maybe have newcomers from electronics rattling around in a corner of their huge structure.

The bank notes that the newer industries pay higher wage scales than do the soft goods ones, thus raising the region's level of income. But at the same time, the bank says, Yankees are gaining competitive advantage with the rest of the nation because their new up-to-date metalworking factories pay lower wages than those of similar factories elsewhere.

Their textile mills, however, pay a higher wage scale and fringe benefits than the nation's textile industry as a whole—a major reason for the liquidation of many of them and the flight of others to the south.

Fluoridation Discussed
An informative program on fluoridation which gave an overall picture of the subject was presented by Dr. Vernon K. Johnson and Wallace J. Benzie, sanitarian of the Delta-Menominee Health Department.

Dr. Johnson stated that fluoridation is a vital issue and its use would benefit the children of today and tomorrow in reducing tooth decay.

Some study of fluorine was made in the early part of the eighteenth century, but research really developed in the twentieth century, he said. It was found in certain geographic areas and its presence was noted by the lack of decay in the teeth among that particular area's native population. After great research it was found as a natural source in the water of that area.

Dr. Johnson stated several towns had been compared, one with fluoridation and one without, over a period of several years. In the towns having fluoridation there was one third less tooth decay.

Is Long Lasting

Dr. Johnson also stated that the immunity of fluoridation lasts a lifetime. Fluoridation has no effect on the other parts of the body. It is not a medicine, does not cure, but helps stop tooth decay. It is no different than having iodine added to salt, but is a natural constituent of teeth and bone found in water. It will not harm human, animal or plant life. It has no taste or odor.

Dr. Johnson stated those against fluoridation were either uninformed, misinformed or had something else to sell for similar results.

Mrs. Benzie was introduced by Dr. Johnson and stated that the Health Department recommends fluoridation. He stated that the cost would really be nothing as $5,000 for seven years would mean a saving alone in dental care of $18,000. The machine needed for fluoridation would cost approximately $2,500, which is in the budget. The local water plant can handle the fluoridation very easily, he said. The chemical cost over a period of ten years would amount to about six cents per person.

Mrs. Norman L. Lindquist presided at the business meeting, in the absence of Mrs. John Anthony. The new slate of officers for the ensuing year was presented by Mrs. Henry Wiley.

Bird Lovers To Observe Audubon 150 Anniversary

WASHINGTON —America's millions of bird lovers celebrate a special anniversary this spring, remembering that 150 years ago artist-naturalist John James Audubon studied and sketched his first American birds.

They were pewees, small olive-green birds that beat the robins north to the young Audubon's new home on a farm in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, the National Geographic Society says.

Early in 1804, at 18, the Haitian son of a French naval officer, came from France to live on his father's Mill Grove property near Norristown. He lost little time in exploring the natural wonders close at hand.

Prowling a cave along Perkioming Creek, the naturalist happened upon a mud and moss nest attached to the entrance. Snow still mantled the ground, and the air was chill. The pewees had not yet arrived. But shortly they came, and with them Audubon's intense delight in the birds of America.

Soon Found Another Interest
The young man soon found another interest close at hand that also was to influence his entire career. While paying a visit to a neighbor, he met Lucy Bakewell, a girl of 15. Later she became Mrs. Audubon, and although she realized that "I have a rival in every bird," she shared the many ups and downs in her husband's fortunes.

The old stone manor house of Mill Grove and 122 acres were acquired by Montgomery County in 1951, the centennial of Audubon's death, and were opened to the public last year.

The house has been decorated with engravings from Audubon's famous folio, "Birds of America." The grounds, equipped with picnic facilities, retain much of the wild charm the artist-naturalist knew.

Mill Grove once was filled with birds and animals the young ornithologist had stuffed. There he devised his ingenious method of wiring specimens into life-like positions so that he could draw them accurately. In the cave beside Perkioming Creek he conducted the first bird banding experiment in America, fastening silver wires around the young birds' legs.

Shunned Business Career
Audubon's life at Mill Grove scarcely carried out his father's intentions—a profitable business career. Nor did the young man show any interest in a lead mine on the property that furnished bullets for Revolutionary soldiers. His father, retired and living in France, had hoped the mine would be a good investment.

It was a carefree time for Audubon, the young lord of the manor. He once remarked that "not a ball, a skating match, a house or riding party took place without me."

But Audubon—strong, athletic,

Eliminate Outhouses; Prevent Typhoid

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Public health officials war relentlessly for modern plumbing—and they're in sight of total victory.

H. L. Malone, sanitary engineer for the Oklahoma Department of Health says 90 per cent of the state's urban population has modern disposal systems. About 25 years ago, when the campaign began in Oklahoma, the figure was about 50 per cent.

Dr. Grady F. Mathews, commissioner of Public Health, says that before the campaign against outhouses started there were from 3,000 to 5,000 cases of typhoid fever in the state each year with the death rate one in 10. Last year there were 60 cases with one death.

expert marksman, rider and dog trainer—also roamed the countryside with his drawing pencils and fowling piece, strengthening his ambition to be a naturalist.

It was in the field that he conceived his life work: a monumental folio of America's birds.

GOOD FEEDING

by AL JOHNSON

NORTHERN FLOUR & GRAIN
ESCANABA, MICH.

START YOUR CHICKS in February and March to have them in full production by September and October when egg prices are usually high. Provide them with a house and equipment that has been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

HAVE THE BROODER at proper temperature . . . approximately 95 degrees . . . when chicks arrive. Check the temperature by watching the chicks. If chicks huddle around the hover—it's too cold. If they move out along the walls—it's too warm. Have plenty of feed and water before the chicks at all times.

NORMALLY A CHICK consumes about two pounds of starter during the first six weeks. Thus it costs you so little to use a mash that is safe. That's why it is important to put your chicks on a nutritious diet.

EVERY FARMER'S WIFE knows that steady, consistent gains mean healthy chickens or heavy layers at maturity—depending on whether she raises her flock for meat or eggs. Funny chicks seldom pay off. Be sure to bring your chicks along thriftily, so that you won't have "star boarders"—those who eat greedily without showing gains—as you lead them into their "teen-age" growing period.

ACCIDENT CHICK STARTER is the ideal supplement to the feeding of farm grains. Has real flavor appeal and a color that makes 'em want to eat it. And, there's plenty of balanced nourishment in every bag.

REMEMBER: BECAUSE OCCIDENT has always stood for quality, you can buy Occident Feeds wherever they're sold with complete assurance of continued farm service. Try Occident Feeds. Sold on a money back guarantee by the Russell-Miller Milling Co., Minneapolis, Minn., for over 70 years millers of Occident Flour. Dental Equipment Donated to Counties By Children's Fund

The Children's Fund of Michigan has donated equipment which it used here to Alger and Schoolcraft counties, Dr. R. A. Tearnan, director, reported this week.

The fund, which will terminate April 30, provided $3,000 per year, the salary and travel expenses of one nurse, services of a fulltime dentist, his expenses, and dental supplies and equipment when the Alger-Schoolcraft Health department was organized, he said.

The arrangement for assistance to the health department here was continued for several years until gradually the fund-reduced all its services to health departments.

Expenditures from the fund have averaged more than $700,000 per year during the past 25 years, Dr. Tearnan pointed out. The fund was established by the late Senator James Couzens.

In addition to donating the dental equipment, the fund also is helping to make plans to continue the supplying of glasses, Dr. Tearnan added.

Freight Delay Irks Shippers; Service Righted

Manistique merchants, shippers and manufacturers, hard pressed and irked Wednesday when freight shipments were not delivered from the morning Soo Line train, received assurances Wednesday afternoon from Milwaukee that express will be delivered in the city the day it first arrives.

Difficulty arose when the Soo Line Railroad moved the time of arrival for its morning train to 7:22 a. m., (EST) or two hours earlier. Railway express workers here, members of the Brotherhood of Railroad and Steam Car Clerks, would have had to put in 1½ hours of overtime, and the express company had indicated an unwillingness earlier to pay for the overtime daily.

The overtime pay per day would have been $4 to $4.50, Ray Opal, express agent at Manistique reported. The agency here is staffed by Opal and a part-time worker, Joseph Brunet. Opal works an 8-hour day in a 12-hour period of time.

Will Meet Train
Wednesday morning, only baked goods and ice cream were left at the station here, and the balance of the Manistique-destined freight went through to Sault Ste. Marie. It was then returned here Wednesday night, for express delivery today.

Automotive parts, meat, fish, baked goods, ice cream, film, tires, clothing and hats are among items brought here by rail.

L. D. Stout, of Milwaukee, superintendent of the Railway Express company, in a long-distance telephone call, assured shippers here yesterday, that freight would be unloaded from the train when it arrives in the morning and that it would be delivered the same day. Details of the express company's arrangements were not revealed.

Earlier Postal Service
The train change took effect Monday, but on Monday and Tuesday mornings, the Railway Express agency met the train. However, union regulations require, that overtime must be compensated, and the train was not met Wednesday morning.

Prior to effecting a settlement through Stout, morning freight would have been unloaded by train personnel here, at the owner's risk.

The morning Soo Line arrived here at 9:10 a. m., (EST) until March 15. The earlier arrival has enabled Manistique postal carriers to be on the street with morning mail an hour earlier, Postmaster Frank Gierke Sr., reports. Two mail deliveries now are being made daily in the business district.

Mrs. Herman had tried to withdraw the complaint during arraignment. Herman was ordered held in $10,000 bail pending notification to the U. S. attorney's office in Richmond that Mrs. Herman wants to withdraw her complaint. (AP Wirephoto)

County Welfare Costs Are Outlined For 1953

A total of $30,418.76 was available for county welfare purposes during the year 1953 and as of Jan. 1, 1954, the Schoolcraft County Department of Social Welfare had a balance on hand of $32.29, Miss Maria Tracy, director, reported this week at the meeting of the county board of supervisors.

The funds available during the past year included a balance of $218.76 on hand at the beginning of 1953; $32,000 allocated by the county, and $2200, which was the county's share of 50 per cent of direct relief refunds, less $4,000 which was advanced from the 1953 allocation for 1952 expenses.

During the year, $12,107.51 was paid to hospitals and for transportation, and of this amount $2,603.90 was redeemed through refunds and collections of hospitals, the report shows. The county also transferred to its direct relief fund, from the county welfare budget, $13,032.29, which was its share of 50 per cent of direct relief costs.

Hospital Bill
Expenses of the welfare department for the year were itemized as follows:

Salaries	$6,447.54
Telephone, Telegraph
Postage	391.52
Office Supplies	189.72
Equipment Repair	4.00
Rent	720.00
Light	80.02
Administration Travel	174.70
Group Insurance	156.95
Bonds	35.00
Association Dues	23.00
Social Security	96.74
5% Handling Charge
Social Security	$26,064.54
Total of administration costs for the year was $8,330.87, of which $480.30 was refunded by the state; and total county welfare costs, including a $40 payment for a funeral, which was later refunded, were $33,510.67.

The above figures do not include a 1951 bill of $6,764.50 for Schoolcraft Memorial hospital, and if this figure were included in the expenses, the county welfare account would have this year showed a deficit of $6,732.21, the report showed.

41 Cases
In a detailed report on 1953 hospitalization costs of the welfare department, the report reveals that a total of $12,107.51 was spent, as follows:

Doctors services in hospitals, $2,665.00; Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, $5,158.26; transportation to and from hospitals, $247.75; University hospital, $2,116.22; other hospitals, $1,920.28. Refunds on hospitalization totaled $2,603.90, leaving a net hospitalization cost for the department of $9,503.61.

The report did not contain material on the number of cases on which the funds were spent, nor did it indicate what number of cases were receiving aid to dependent children, aid to blind, old age assistance, direct relief, etc. However, during the board meeting, Miss Tracy reported that the department has 41 cases.

Direct Relief Account
The annual statement of direct relief submitted to the board was as follows:

Easter Seal Drive Starts

More than 2300 Easter Seal appeal letters containing sheets of 1954 Easter Seals were mailed to Manistique area citizens today as the first step of the 1954 campaign to help crippled children get underway.

Sponsored by the Schoolcraft Health committee, the 21st annual appeal officially opens March 18 and continues through Easter Sunday, April 18.

The largest portion of the funds contributed in the local area will go to support the Bay Cliff Health Camp, located at Big Bay, Marjorie MacKenzie, campaign chairman, said. Part of the money is also used for medical care, special treatment, crutches and braces and other needs of handicapped people.

A small portion, 83 per cent, goes to the National Society for Crippled Children and adults to support a nationwide program of education research and direct services.

Book Memorial Is Presented By W. S. Crowe
Manistique Public Library has just received a book from William S. Crowe to be placed in circulation as a memorial to his late daughter, Mrs. Robert Giffen (Ethel Crowe).

The book is "The Twenty-Year Revolution"—from Roosevelt to Eisenhower—by Chesley Manley. Manly, a graduate of the University of Missouri, formerly worked on the Milwaukee Journal, and is now on the staff of the Chicago Tribune. He has written of the immense tangle of difficulties this country is in.

He says, "We are passing through a lawless revolution, the purpose of which is to nullify the American Constitution, alter completely the shape of the American Republic, and make us into a collectivist society on the European model. Here is a fine book to put into the hands of our kids—from 13 to 40—who have never lived under the American Republic of their fathers."

The book has been properly inscribed and is now available to library patrons.

Ice Cream Stunt Favorite Magic

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — TV, Jets, AC, DC? Shucks, there's no stunt like an old stunt to delight a child.

General Electric Co. "magicians" in a presentation to Brooklyn students made music ride a beam of light, lit an electric lamp with a match, made a toy electric train obey the commands of a man's voice and lifted the youngsters out of their seats with the noise of a real jet engine.

But when a vote was taken, the favorite bit of "magic" proved to be a mixture of chemicals that sputtered, fizzed and foamed 150 times before freezing into the shape of a "strawberry ice cream soda."

for advertising,

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

Forced Retirement Is Growing

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — To Americans there is nothing strange in thinking of 35-year-old Red Buttons as a "kid." We are a nation that's bent on living youthfully longer.

So it's quite a shock to learn that jobs are getting harder for older people to get and to hold. Many firms have reduced their retirement age from 70 to 65 and even 62. Help wanted ads are specifying "under 35" or "must be young" more frequently today than in previous years.

This series of bombshells was released by Maxwell Lehman and Morton Yarmon during a recent interview in the office of their publisher.

The authors of "Jobs After Retirement" offered the barrage in explaining what prompted them to write the book.

"The situation is very bad," Lehman said. "And it's made worse by the fact that so few are aware of it. It seems a man or woman must get slapped with it before realizing what's going on."

Use For Skills

Lehman and Yarmon's awakening, however, did not come so rudely. Their concern with the problems of the older worker has resulted from their work as editors of a Civil Service newspaper.

Disturbing as they found the situation, this writing team was convinced that the retired worker could find profitable ways of using his skills.

So they hunted down people who had, and told these experiences in their recently published book.

The jobs that Lehman and Yarmon found to be productive of both money and satisfaction range from photographing local scenes and making jigsaw puzzles of them to raising earthworms.

The book gives concrete suggestions on how to get started on a home-sewing business, writing, tutoring. It tells how to market homemade products and lists pamphlets and magazines that will give one the know-how to get started.

Need Guidance

But the authors strongly feel that many people need personal guidance when they are forced out of jobs.

What can the person who feels incapable of analyzing his assets do to get himself started on the right road?

"Well, we believe it's a community problem rather than a government one," Yarmon stated. "And I think that a great deal can be done by women's clubs."

Lehman was talking now. "My wife tells me that some women's organizations are always on the lookout for worthwhile projects. Well, here's one that's really worth while."

"They could help these people to plan their retirement strategy, to evaluate their experience and their skills."

"And they undoubtedly would do much to bring this problem before the businessmen of their communities, since in most cases the businessmen and their husbands are the same people."

FIRST TOOTHBRUSH

The toothbrush is said to have been invented by William Addis, a convict in a London prison. Convinced in the Gordon riots of 1780, he made the first toothbrush in his cell from a bone he found in his prison food, and some bristles from a scrubbing brush.

Writers Maxwell Lehman (left) and Morton Yarmon say that forced retirement and old age needn't spell defeat. They point out that retired people can create jobs that will provide income.

World's Largest Preserve Must Soon Be Fenced In WASHINGTON — Civilization is creeping up on South Africa's Kruger Park. The world's largest game reserve and open-air zoo must soon be fenced.

Settlers in the East Transvaal lowlands have asked the South African government to enclose the 8,000-square-mile sanctuary to prevent marauding beasts from trampling farmlands and destroying crops. As a result, part of a $1,400,000 appropriation for park improvement has been earmarked for erection of a sisal fence along the southern boundary.

Throughout Kruger Park's 5,000,000 acres, however, the estimated 1,000,000 animal inhabitants will continue to roam freely, says the National Geographic Society.

Animal Paradise
On palm-dotted plains and dense thornbush veld are found all the famous breeds of African big game—lions, elephants, leopards, buffaloes, giraffes, hippopotamuses and 18 varieties of antelope. Crystal-clear rivers swarm with crocodiles. More than 320 species of birdlife roost in the sycamore figs and fever trees.

Stretching for 210 miles along the northeastern Transvaal frontier, Kruger Park is South Africa's biggest tourist attraction. Almost 100,000 visitors toured the park in 1953.

Unlike animal residents, people are restricted in their movements within the sanctuary. Visitors may drive the 1,200 miles of roadway but cannot leave their cars except at certain specified points. Speed is limited to 10 miles per hour to protect jaywalking beasts so accustomed to automobiles that they virtually ignore them.

Visitors may traverse the park only by day. They may not leave its dozen rest camps after dusk. A force of 100 rangers patrols the reserve by car and on horseback, guarding the safety of humans and the well-being of the animals.

Once Fever-Ridden
Kruger Park is open to visitors year-round. Prior to 1950, it was closed during the summer season, November to May, due to the danger of malaria. Daily DDT/sprays finally conquered the mosquito menace.

Spring and summer droughts still present a major problem for park officials, however. Grasslands provide excellent winter grazing for the animals, but offer only bare subsistence in the dry seasons. Hungry herds migrate westward into the farmlands to find food and water.

Drilling of additional water-holes and replanting of grasslands are planned under the park's new long-range development and maintenance program.

The huge game sanctuary is named for Paul Kruger, who initiated the project in 1898 when he was president of the independent South African Republic. Kruger feared hunting parties would denude South Africa of its rich store of animal life.

Gets Patent On Wonder Coffee Pot

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—"Women," the man says, "know very little about coffee or coffeemaking. So, I'll tell you."

Robert T. Cameron, retired Knoxville lawyer who keeps bachelor quarters has been working on a coffee pot for five years. Its patented with eight claims to special features. It brews coffee in any of the popular ways—percolator, drip or pot—all in the same container.

Don't boil it hard he urges. That brings out bad taste in a substance called cafetannin and boils off the good taste with the aromatic oil.

"That's the heavenly aroma you smell in some kitchens when coffee is being made, and that makes your disappointment greater when the cup handed you holds a comparatively tasteless brew," he says. Cameron's coffee pot, he says, keeps the caffeine and oils in the brew and leaves the cafetannin in the grounds.

Israel Collective Farms To Expand

TEL-AVIV (AP)—Experts think Israel can grow all her own food within seven years. To do so she would have to add 41,000 farm units and multiply irrigation by four. The farm population would be doubled.

Government policy backs the program. Bad farm practice is a legal offense. One collective farm was fined recently for promoting erosion by failure to use contour plowing.

Meanwhile, efforts are being made to expand home grown foods. To supplement meager meat supplies, poultry projects are being expanded. About a million chickens a month go to a population of 1,700,000. These are being provided after three months when no one but the sick get a meat ration. Meanwhile officials promote consumption of large quantities of locally grown vegetables.

INSIDE TRACK

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — William Chappell, 22, University of Rhode Island sophomore, should know plenty about women and cooking before he graduates. Bill is the only male student among 225 girls taking the university's home economics course. He is training to become a hotel manager.

Refrigerators Take Place Of Ice Boxes

MALONE, N. Y. (AP)—The arrival of modern conveniences even in the tallest timber is threatening to make the ice cutter a vanishing American and the rustic ice house a weatherbeaten curio.

Oscar Brown of Owls Head, deep in the Adirondacks of Northern New York, says he used to fill ice houses for 60 summer campers but this year had only one customer.

"Everybody has electricity now," he explained.

China Reds Claim Hong Kong As Own

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have issued a map in an atlas which shows Hong Kong as part of China. This is one of the first Red claims on the British crown colony. The map was issued last August but the revised border was noted only recently by the Nationalist news agency, Central News. "Hong Kong and Kowloon are territories lost to us as a result of unequal treaties, and are still occupied by British imperialists as a political, commercial and military base for aggression against the Far East," the atlas says.

Second Game Of Series At Palestra On Friday

MARQUETTE—A brilliant clutch performance by the Escanaba Hawks here last night stunned the Marquette Sentinels and a partisan crowd of 1,117 at the Palestra rink with an 8-6 victory in the first game of the Northern Michigan Hockey League semifinal playoffs.

The Hawks, with one foot in the championship playoff picture, return here Friday night for the second game of the best-of-three series. The Friday night clash is Escanaba's home game, shifted to the Palestra because of the lack of ice at the Escanaba fairgrounds rink.

It will be do-or-die for the Sentinels Friday and one of the largest crowds of the current hockey season is expected on hand. A large delegation of Hawk fans will make the trip to boost their underdog sextet.

Hawks In Command

The Hawks were underdogs here last night you'd never know it by the way they took charge of the Sentinels after the first period. They outplayed and out-fought the host sextet at every phase of the game.

The Sentinels took a 3-1 lead in the first period but it was short-lived as Ted Olson and Joe Ricci combined for three second-period goals to tie it at 4-4 entering the finale.

It was all Escanaba in the third period as the Hawks rushed into a 6-4 lead on goals by Ricci and Buddy Provo and then tied the victory with a lightning brace of goals by Mark Olson.

Sensational goal-tending by Hawk goalie Ben Artwisch brought roars of approval from even the Sentinel fans. The nonchalant Artwisch was never more effective in the Escanaba nets as he kicked out 20 Marquette shots in the first period.

Sentinels Start Fast

The Hawks took heart from Artwisch's superb performance in the first period and gained strength through the game. They had the Sentinels hanging on the ropes in the late stages of the game and coasted to victory in the second half of the final period.

The Sentinels opened with furious play early in the game and scored twice while the Hawks were warming up on the huge Palestra ice sheet. Pat McLaughlin scored first on a pass from Buckley O'Neill at 1:25 and Bud VanOverloop made it 2-0 at 4:56.

Ricci scored the first of his three goals on an intricate double-pass from Ted and Mark Olson but Roy Olson put the Sentinels ahead 3-1 with 16 seconds remaining in the period.

Mark Olson turned in an excellent free-throw exhibition in the second frame, passing off to Ted Olson and Joe Ricci for the Hawks' three goals in the period. VanOverloop scored Marquette's goal and the period ended at a 4-4 standoff.

Seniors Win St. Joe Basketball Tourney

The St. Joe Trojan seniors captured the all-class tournament championship yesterday afternoon by defeating the sophomores, 61-48.

The seniors threw a four-way scoring attack at the sophs to pull away from a slim 30-29 lead shortly after the half and win with ease. Heavy hitters in the senior lineup were Dick Cass and Dick Beynon with 16 apiece, Jim Zimmerman with 18 and Jerry McDonough with 12.

John Bernigan earned the brunt of the attack for the sophomores with 19 points.

The seniors had previously beaten the freshmen and the sophs had eliminated the juniors.

Olson and Gavilan Get 40 Percent Each

CHICAGO (U-P) — Middleweight champion Bobo Olson will get a 40 per cent split of a net gate that may top $300,000 when he defends his title against welterweight kid Gavilan, in Chicago Stadium April 2.

Olson and Gavilan today were to sign a formal contract for the scrap.

Munising Eliminated In State Tournament By Ludington, 64-41

PETOSKEY (Special To Press) —Ludington levelled its heavy siege guns at Munising, Upper Peninsula Class B champion, here last night and blasted the Mustangs out of state tournament competition, 64-41.

Coach Stan Whitman's Munising quint was out-manned and out-classed, but not outfought. The Mustangs trailed 16-9 at the end of the first period and 32-17 at the half.

Ludington uncorked a 25-point third quarter to really chill Munising's hopes and Coach Joe Kowatch's cagers were ahead 57-29 entering the last quarter.

Six-foot, seven-inch Pete Tillotson patrolled both back boards with devastating effect and flipped in eight field goals and three free throws for 19 points, high for both teams. Forward Tom Johnson kept close to his big team mate with 16 points while two guards, Adams and Kowatch, chipped in with 10 and 13.

The huge Munising following here took the defeat in stride. The size of the Munising rooting section amazed tournament officials.

School Kids Off For Opener In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (U-P)—Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent of schools, announced Wednesday night that April 15—home opening date of the Baltimore Orioles—will be a holiday for the city's 138,000 school kids.

"That big parade welcoming the Orioles will have many historical floats, and we felt it would be educational for them to see it," he explained.

Jack's Quint Trips Cooks By 80 To 66

RAPID RIVER—A strong second half in which they outscored their foes 46-26 gave Jack's cagers an 80-66 victory over Cooks here last night.

Waldon "Punch" Johnson seared the nets with 15 field goals and four free throws for 34 points to lead Rapid River. Orville Olson hit 28 to set the pace for Cooks. John Jacques, former Cooks high school player, contributed 20.

Cooks opened fast and led 19-16 at the end of the first period. The visitors stretched it to 40-34 at the half before Jack's came back to hit 22 points in the third and 24 in the fourth.

Defending Class A State Champion Is Knocked Off

By JOE FALLS

Unheralded Jackson, nothing more than a mediocre team during the regular season, stepped into the "dark horse" role today as the 16 survivors in the State High Schools Basketball Tournament prepared for Friday's semi-finals.

Coach Donald Ogden's Vikings, who entered the tournament with a 6-9 record, scored the biggest Class A upset Wednesday night by eliminating defending champion Dearborn Fordson, 51-46, in a quarter-final match.

The result overshadowed the advance of Highland Park, Muskegon Heights and Flint Northern, and the fall of previously unbeaten Lansing Sexton.

One Unbeaten Team

Sexton's gaudy 19-game winning streak was cut short by Flint Northern, which averaged two regular-season losses by handing the Big Reds a 54-49 setback.

Highland Park powered ahead, as expected, by overwhelming Pontiac, 53-31, for its 18th win without a setback.

The Parkers, prohibitive favorites to capture their second Class A title in three years, are the only unbeaten team in the tourney.

Muskegon Heights moved into the semi-final round with a 44-39 victory over Kalamazoo Central, a five-time champion.

Muskegon Heights, winner of 18 and loser of one, meets Highland Park in one semi-final game Friday, while Flint Northern and Jackson collide in the other.

Odds are heavily against coach Ogden's Vikings getting past powerful Flint Northern but you can be certain they won't give an inch. Against Dearborn Fordson, Jackson built a lead, blew it and then rallied with a crushing fourth-quarter rally that sent the Tractors to the sidelines.

Flint Northern held a 38-31 lead over Lansing Sexton at the end of three quarters but saw it melt to 50-49 with only six seconds to go.

But Frank Manley and Bob Failing hit field goals and Northern had its 16th—and most important—victory of the season against three losses.

Wisconsin Miss Low Medalist

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Medalist Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., drew Virginia Denney, the Northwestern University coed from Lake Forest, Ill., as her opponent today in the first round of the North and South women's invitation golf tournament.

Nineteen-year-old Miss Ziske, who last month won the Palm Beach, Fla., championship, won the medal with a two-over-par 76 in Wednesday's qualifying round. Miss Denney qualified with 83.

Barbara McIntire of Toledo, with a 77; former champion Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta; Barbara Romack of Sacramento; and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., 1953 national amateur champion, were among the others in the championship flight.

Miss Kirby, who scored a 78 Wednesday, met Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

Mrs. Marjorie Lindsay McMillen, Decatur, Ill., was matched with Shirley Smith, Binghamton, N.Y.

Sixteen teams won berths in the semi-finals—four in each class. Advancing in Class B were Holland Christian, St. Johns, River Rouge and Ludington. Moving up in Class C were Marine City, Watervliet, Lansing St. Mary and Wakefield, while in Class D, Detroit All Saints, Gobles, Remus and Ellsworth advanced.

Four B Powers

The Class B field apparently is packed with four powerhouses. Holland Christian steamed to a 79-66 victory over Grand Ledge for its 22nd win against only two losses. River Rouge trimmed Detroit St. Andrews, 58-48, for its 20th victory compared to two losses. Pete Tilton scored 19 points in leading Ludington to a 64-41 romp over Munising. And St. Johns nipped Utica, 50-48, for win No. 17.

Lansing St. Mary, with 23 victories in 24 starts, looks like the team to beat in Class C. It moved ahead with 38-32 come-from-behind victory over Scottville.

In Class D, Jack Wernette and Bob Rodey scored 53 points in leading Remus to a 64-44 triumph over St. Michael. This class looks a wide open fight.

After Friday night's semi-finals, the finals will be held Saturday afternoon and evening in Michigan State College's Jenison Field House.

Famed Strikeout Artist Ron Necciai Goes Home

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Rocket Ron Necciai, the only hurler in the history of organized baseball to strike out all 27 men in nine innings, has left the Pittsburgh Pirates training camp.

Disgusted, discouraged and — his mates indicated — just about heartbroken, the 21-year-old, 6-3 righthander asked to be placed on the voluntary retired list. He has a sore arm.

When the Pirate brass ordered him to their minor league camp at Huntsville, Texas, for assignment, Ronnie said he was going home.

A Pittsburgh source close to the club said "Ronnie may work out of this. His arm may heal up and he'll want another chance. I hope so because he's a nice kid."

Ronnie, the son of a Monongahela, Pa., coal miner, climaxed his minor league career with an amazing performance on May 13, 1952, while hurling for Bristol (Va.) against Welch (W. Va.) in the Appalachian League. He struck out all 27 men, the first and only time the feat has officially been recorded in organized baseball.

He did it although under treatment for ulcers. Later he put in a hitch in the Army but was discharged after 65 days because of his stomach condition. Then he sat out the 1953 season.

The Pirates were hopeful he would come through this year. He looked good pitching four innings against the Detroit Tigers early this month. Then, on March 10, against the same club he pitched to two batters and walked toward the bench holding his arm.

Since then, Ronnie said, his arm has hurt so much he could hardly sleep.

Sport Shorties

Dave Hoskins, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, is a native of Greenwood, Miss., but first learned baseball in Flint, Mich., high school.

Ted Williams was the only Red Sox player to hit a homer at Washington's Griffith Stadium in 1953.

The Cincinnati Redlegs open the 1954 baseball season at Crosley Field April 13 against the Milwaukee Braves.

Ty Cobb won 12 American League batting championships, nine of them in a row (1907-1915). He finished his career with a lifetime mark of .367, highest in the history of the majors.

JUGGLING—With important veterans missing, Casey Stengel may put on an all-time juggling act this season. He started switching the lineup around in spring training. (NEA Photo)

Bonus Kid Gets Hits For Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Scouting reports on Al Kaline said he could run, throw and field—but was a light hitter.

Despite this, the Detroit Tigers gave the young outfielder a $35,000 bonus to sign with them last June.

The reasoning was obvious. A player can be taught to hit. Running and throwing are talents you either have or haven't, not too much can be done about it.

The Tigers have used him, in one capacity or another, in nine of their first 10 exhibition games. He's the leading hitter on the team, with a .583 average. He has seven hits—one a home run—in 12 times at bat. He's scored three times and batted in three runs.

That doesn't look like somebody who isn't supposed to know how to hit. Remember, though, this is March, not July or August.

Kaline hit a pinch hit double Wednesday for Detroit's only extra base hit against the Cincinnati Reds in Tampa. The Tigers lost 4-1, making their exhibition record 4-6.

Ned Garver, hoped to be the ace of Detroit's pitching staff, made his first appearance. He pitched the first four innings and gave up two runs and five hits.

Ralph Branca, who also was making his initial start, hurled the last four innings. He gave up only two hits and two runs.

Labor Leaders 'Brain-Washed' In Guatemala

By DREW PEARSON

Just how serious the Communist infiltration of Guatemala has become is illustrated in a recent report by the Inter-American Regional Organization an AFL affiliate, which tells how the Guatemalan government is condoning "brain-washing" of anti-Communists in labor unions. The "brain-washings" follow the pattern used on American prisoners in Korea.

An AFL Inter-American investigator, Robert J. Alexander, who made an on-the-scene probe of conditions in the little Latin-American hotbox, reported cases of anti-Communist labor leaders in Guatemala being arrested, tortured and deported. Here are some highlights of Alexander's findings:

"Government support for the Communists in the labor movement was dramatically shown late in January when the leaders of the Union Nacional de Trabajadores Libres were arrested. The UNTL had been organized some months before as a center for anti-Communist elements in the Guatemalan Trade union movement.

Affiliation Upset

"Its leadership was made up of working men who played an active part in the revolution, but had become disgusted with growing Communist influence in a movement which the Communists had had very little part in starting.

"The UNTL had had some success in getting the support of elements in the labor movement who were opposed to the Communists. Several unions had agreed to affiliate with the UNTL, and it had established contact with other groups throughout the country. It threatened to become a real challenge to Communist control of the labor movement.

"As a result," the Alexander report continues, "the leaders of the UNTL were suddenly arrested on the morning of January 25. They were picked up by plain clothesmen who refused to present any police credentials and took the trade union leaders at the point of a gun. The UNTL leaders were taken to a local police headquarters.

Deport Labor Leaders

"They were held for several days, during which they were frequently moved from one place to another in Guatemala city. During this period they were subject-

GROWING SPIRITUALLY

By
E. STANLEY JONES

Rom. 6:5-11 (Moffatt)

WE RETREAT BEFORE WE ADVANCE

We have insisted that the first step in growth is a step backward. We have to reverse our values before we can get new ones. This verse expresses it: "For if we have grown into him by a death like his, we shall grow into him by a resurrection like his" (Rom. 6:5, Moffatt). "We have grown . . . by death." We have to go to a cross and there die to the kind of person we are — have to die to our self-centered preoccupation, our resentments, our pride, our jealousies, our fears, our guilts. Then a new man arises. "We shall grow into him by a resurrection like his."

Here was a girl who came to the mission field, well prepared, able, and devoted, and with an experience of God that was real and contagious. Then she slipped a cog. She got her eyes on everything except Jesus. For eight months she wandered amid her old fears — fears of the dark, fears of going places, fears of failure. Then came the moment when she knelt before the picture of Christ in a chapel and said very simply: "You've got me." An eight-months-long bondage was broken, and her fears dropped away. She arose the next day and said, "All day I have been throwing up windows and opening doors to let the fresh air and sunlight into the very musty and dingy house of my soul. I'm free again."

Now take another, the opposite of the above. Here was a woman who was as near distraction as she could be when she came to me. She and her husband were drinking and fussing their way to a divorce court. Oaths punctured her distracted story. Then the prayer and the surrender. When she arose, she said, "Why I feel better already. Now I can take my head out from under my wing and look straight at life and everybody." When she returned home and her husband began fussing, for the first time she did not reply. It nonplused him. "Are you ill?" he asked anxiously. A friend saw her and said: "You look rested and happy for a change."

Conversion brings freedom from the past and the present and freedom to grow in the future.

O Father, I thank Thee that I need no longer be shackled by the past and by the present. Through conversion I can be free to grow. Amen.

AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: Converted, I shall convert — myself and others!

ed to the most brutal tortures, including the 'cold bath' treatment, incessant interrogation, threats of death, severe beatings.

"Ruben Villatoro, president of the UNTL, was deported to Tapachula, across the border in Mexico. At this writing he is awaiting permission of the Mexican government to proceed to Mexico City. The other principal leaders were deported to Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Dated Milk Bottle Caps Restored

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Dated milk bottle caps are coming back to Connecticut. Last year, the legislature abolished a law requiring caps to show the date the milk was pasteurized. Housewives protested that without the date they couldn't keep track of which milk should be used up first. Officials decided to restore the date on caps, but it will be the delivery rather than the pasteurization date. Housewives say they don't care which it is providing it's a date.

ing permission of the Mexican government to proceed to Mexico City. The other principal leaders were deported to Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

"Thus, while strengthening the Communists' control of the trade unions, the Guatemalan government is using all of its power to destroy all of those within the labor movement who are attempting to challenge the Stalidists' power in the trade unions."

Chemical Production Begun At $12,000,000 White Lake Salt Plant

MONTAGUE (AP)—Hooker Electrochemical Co. went into production at noon Wednesday in its $12,000,000 plant on White Lake, launching what has been hailed as the start of a giant chemical development in Western Michigan. Hooker produces caustic soda and hydrogen from vast salt deposits underlying the area, 17 miles north of Muskegon near the Lake Michigan shore.

Du Pont has announced it will build a multi-million dollar chemical rubber plant in the area to be near the Hooker supply of chemicals and Union Carbide is expected to build a plant to supply Du Pont.

Western Michigan business and governmental executives joined representatives from Hooker's Niagara Falls headquarters in a brief ceremony marking the start of operations.
